INDEX TO VOLUME CXXII.

ABINGER AND THE NORTHERN CIRCUIT, LORD, 91—career at Cambridge, 93—declines membership of the "True Blue Club," 94—fondness for Cicero, 95—first brief, 96—King's Counsel, 98—made Attorney-General by Canning, ib.—leaves the Whigs, 99—his character on the Bench, 100—his contemporaries, 104 et seq.—account of the Grand Court on circuit, 106—"congratulations," 107—Attorney-General of the circuit, 108.

ABYSSINIA, THE EGYPTIAN CAMPAIGN IN, 26—Arendrup's expedition, ib.—second expedition, 28—battles at Gura, 30 et seq.—natural features of the country, 36 et seq.—Abyssinian Christianity, 36—resources of the country, 38.

Afghanistan, the wars of succession in, 221—Lord Mayo's assistance to the Ameer of, ib.—its importance to Britain, 226.

Agamemnon, the tomb of, 673 et seq.

AMERICAN DIPLOMACY IN THE EAST, 766—Mr. Eugene Schuyler, ib. et seq.—his partisan conduct in Turkey, 468—his sensational telegrams 470—responsibility of the U. S. Government, 471—the principle involved in Mr. Schuyler's conduct, 474.

ANGLO-INDIAN SOLDIER AND NOVELIST, AN, 575—Meadows Taylor's early career, 577, et seq.—appointed to Shorapoor, ib.—the Mutiny, 587—later literary life, 590—the Star of India, ib.—last visit to India, 591.

Ardahan, 245, 246, 603—its defenceless position, 606—the Russian capture of, 120, 121—evacuated by the Russians, 521.

Arendrup, Col., his expedition against the Abyssinians, 26 et seq.

ARMY WARRANT, THE NEW, 491—Mr. Trevelyan's proposals, ib.—the German organisation, 492—proposed stimulants, 496—defects of the new Warrant, 497—fifty-five years rule, 499.

Asia, the war in, 118 et seq.—Turkish advantages, 129—operations in July, 239—Turkish successes, 638—defeat of Mukhtar Pasha, 649 et seq.—Turkish success, 760—fall of Kars, 771.

ASIA, RIDES THROUGH, 592.

AT HER DOOR, by J. R. S., 756.

Austria, her influential position in the Eastern Question, 359—her present interest in Turkey, 621—her mission on the Danube, 625.

Austrian Lloyd's steamers, 553.

Bajee Rao, the last Peishwah, 579.

Baker Pasha, 865—distinguishes himself at Karahassan, 514.

Baker, Sir Samuel, his account of Abyssinian resources, 38.

Balkans, the military importance of, 249.

Bashi-Bazouks, their defence of their cruelties, 506.

Bayazid, 119, 121, 239—its strategical importance, 604.

Beaconsfield, Lord, in the House of Lords, 377—his Guildhall speech, 744, 774.

Beluchistan, 220, 226.

Beydur clans, the, 582 et seq.

Boccbe di Cattaro, 556.

Boker, Mr., U. S. Minister at Constantinople, 467.

Bolan Pass, the, 223 et seq.—opened to the British, 232.

Bright, Mr., on the state of parties, 752.

Brougham, Lord, his pleading contrasted with Scarlett's, 92—the original of "Quicksilver" in 'Ten Thousand-a-Year,' 109—his speech in Shaw v. Williams, 110.

Bulgaria, the truth about its misgovernment, 617—Turkish rule in, 757.

"Bulgarian Horrors," by Mr. Gladstone, 131.

Buonaparte, Joseph, made king of Naples, 202—promoted to throne of Spain, 204.

Burial, Homeric, 675 et seq.

Burials Bill, the, 372.

Burnaby's, Captain, 'On Horseback through Asia Minor,' reviewed, 592.

Campbell, D.D., memorials of John Macleod, reviewed, 283, 294—his neutrality in Church politics, ib.—his sermons, 295—inroads on Calvinism, 296—collision with the Church Courts, 297—the phenomena of "tongues," 298—deposed, 299—his book on the 'Atonement,' ib.—his views on the authority of Scripture, 301—Dr. Norman Macleod's opinion of him, 309.

Canterbury, Archbishop of, on the confessional, 370.

Capel, Monsignor, on the Ritualists, 371.

Caucasian insurrection, 120, 129, 246, 247, 364.

Cettinge, a recent visit to, 553.

Chefket Pasha, relieves Plevna, 637, et seq.—preparations for second relief, 759.

Chersonese, archæological remains in the, 681 et seq.

China, Dresden, manufactory of, 62 et seq.

Coaching, the revival of, 325.
Cobden, Mr., his peace principles untenable, 114.
'Confessions of an Opium-eater,' 546 et seq.
'Confessions of a Thug,' by Colonel Meadows Taylor, 580.
Consular rules of the United States violated by Mr. Schuyler, 470.
County franchise, the, 376, 753 et seq.
Crawford, General, his march to Talavera, 511.
Cresswell, Sir Cresswell, a leader on the northern circuit, 106.
Crete, the tête du pont of the Suez Canal, 489.
Cross, Mr., his speech on Mr. Gladstone's resolutions, 369.
CURRENT POLITICS, THE SESSION AND, 367.
Czar, the, his proclamation, 237—his visit to the army, 130.
Dalmatia, the coast of, 553, 557.
Danube, the, military difficulties in crossing, 168—the Russian passage of, 235 et seq.
Deerholtz, Captain, his brutal treatment by the Abyssinians, 36.
De Leon's 'Khedive's Egypt,' reviewed, 477.
DEMOSTHENES, by F. H. D., 574.
De Quincey, his essay on 'Murder considered as one of the Fine Arts' an example of irony, 412—his life, by H. A. Page, reviewed, 717 — adventure with bailiffs, 739.
Derby, Lord, his despatch of May 6th, 360—remarks on intervention, 254.
Deveboyun, battle of, 764 et seq.
'Diary of a late Physician,' by Samuel Warren, 386, et seq.
DIPLOMACY, ENGLISH, 66.
DIPLOMACY IN THE EAST, AMERICAN, 466.
Dost Muhammad, his death, 221.
DRESDEN CHINA, AND ITS MANUFACTORY AT MEISSEN, SAXONY, 62.
Dubnik seized by the Russians, 757.
"Early Struggles," by Samuel Warren, his account of, 381.
EAST, THE STORM IN THE, No. II., 113—No. III., 235—No. IV., 346—No. V., 506—No. VI., 634—No. VII., 757.
Eldon, Lord, his unwillingness to make King's Counsel, 98—his involved charges, 105.
ENGLISH DIPLOMACY, the national aversion to the term, 66—peculiar difficulties of an English ambassador, 67—distrust of English public feeling on the Continent, 68—our diplomacy fettered by our world-wide interests, 69—the advantages of our diplomatic service, 70—possibilities of reform, 72—the profit and loss of the present system balanced, 73.
Epidaurus, the ancient, 556.
Erskine, Lord, his command over the emotions, 102—a mot of, 105.
Erskine, of Linlathen, Letters of Thomas, reviewed, 283—his influence on other writers, 285—his manner, 286—his idea of the fatherhood of God 287—his letters, 289—ideality of his life, 291 — his social character, 292 — Dr. Campbell's account of his death, 301.
Erzeroum, its reported defenceless condition, 119—a stepping-stone to the Mediterranean, 126, 601 et seq.—Turkish retreat upon, 762 — Russian assault, 763—second attack, 768—chances of holding out, 772.
EURIPIDES, THE HELENA OF, 420—the Egyptian legend of Helen, 421 et seq.—resemblance of Helen to Spenser's Florimel, 421, 424—Euripides' dissatisfaction with the popular representation of the gods, 430—coincidences with Shakespeare's 'Winter's Tale,' 431.
Ewing, Bishop, letters from Erskine of Linlathen to, 288.
Extravagance, the irony of social, 417.
Fatherhood of God, the, Erskine of Linlathen's idea of, 287.
Fellaheen, the Egyptian, 482.
Fifty-five years' rule in the army, 499.
Fish, Mr. Hamilton, his orders ignored by Mr. Schuyler, 471.
Florimel, resemblance of Euripides' Helen to Spenser's, 421, 424.
Follett, Sir William, his persuasive eloquence, 101.
Gareloch, the religious manifestations at, 293, et seq.
Garrow, Sir William, 104 et seq.
Gazi, the Turkish dignity of, 636.
Genius, the eccentricities of, 717.
German army organisation, 492.
Germany, her interest in Russia's friendship, 622—the pedestrian in, 343.
Giers, Mr., his account of the condition of Bulgaria, 617.
Gipsy tramps, 329—their encampments, 330.
Gladstone, Mr., futility of his tactics, 368—his resolutions, 369—his doubtful conduct about Home Rule, 376—Turkish views of, 596—charges against the Ministry, 749—views of the county franchise, 753 et seq.—his self-restraint in Ireland, 755.
Gordon, Pasha, his mission to Abyssinia, 39.
Gourko, General, crosses the Balkans, 352—his position in the Balkans, 508 et seq.—fails to intercept Chefket Pasha, 642—captures Wratsa, 765.
Grabbe, Count, killed at Kars, 773.
"Grand Court" on Circuit, the, 106 et seq.
Granville, Earl, his policy in opposition, 368.
Green, Sir Henry, his opinion of our Indian frontier, 223.
Grivitza redoubt, the, 518, 521.
Gura, Fort, in Abyssinia, 29—battles at, 30 et seq.
Hanna, Dr., his edition of Erskine of Linlathen's letters criticised, 289.
Harrowby, Lord, his majority on the Burials Bill, 372.
Hartington, Lord, his policy in opposition, 368—his performance at Edinburgh, 751.

Hassan, Prince, son of the Khedive, his share in the Abyssinian expedition, 28, 32—command in Bulgaria, 479.
Heine, 74—degradation of his race, 77—becomes a member of the Jew Verein, ib.—quits his country, 78—the contradictions in his character explained, 79—accepts Christian baptism, 80—feud with Platen, 81—his respect for Uhland, 82—success of his songs, ib.—Mr. Stigand's work, 83—Gerard de Nerval's criticism, 86—his last illness, 87—the 'Book of Lazarus,' 89.
Heine, Translations from, by Theodore Martin, 501, 628.
Herzegovinians, their dress, 555.
Hirsova, 236.
History, irony in, 415.
Holy Cross, the Society of, 370.
Homer, illustrated by Dr. Schliemann's discoveries, 674 et seq.
Home Rule obstructionists, 373 et seq.
Hughes, Mr. A. W., his account of Beluchistan, 227.
Ignatieff, General, his prejudicial influence on the Sultan, 594—the author of Turkish repudiation, 603—his loss of credit, 616.
India, the Khedive's Egypt and our Route to, 477.
Indian Frontier Policy: Past and Present, Our, 220—our relations with Afghanistan, 221—inevitable meeting of England and Russia in Asia, 222—defensive strength of our present frontier, 223—our relations with Beluchistan, 227—Lord Lytton's idea of moral influence, 230—the new treaty with Khelat, 231—confidence in Lord Lytton's policy, 234.
Irene Macgillicuddy, the Tender Recollections of, 656.
Irving, Edward, 284, 300.
'Islam, A Ride through,' reviewed, 592.
Ismail Khedive, Mr. De Leon's account of, 477—his magnificent projects, 480.
Ismail Sadyk Pasha, the "Eastern Wolsey," 478.
Istrian wines, 557.
Italy, the pedestrian in, 342.
Jacob, General, his views of the Indian frontier question, 223—his services in Upper Sind, 229.
Jew-hunt at Hamburg, 77.
Jews, the, their condition in Germany at the beginning of nineteenth century, 76 et seq.
John, King of Abyssinia, 26, 29 et seq.—his personal appearance and manners, 35.
Johnson, Dr. T., his captivity among the Abyssinians, 32 et seq.
Kars, second siege of, 770—its capture, 771 et seq.—influence of the event on the campaign, 771.
Kertch, archæological remains at, 682.
Khedive's Egypt and our Route to India, the, 477—the appearance of the Khedive, ib.—Nubar Pasha, 478—the Khedive's family, 479—embarrassments caused by Egyptian progress, 480—Upper Egypt railway project, ib.—Egyptian finance, 481—pitiable condition of the fellaheen, 482 et seq.—agricultural capabilities, 485.
'Khedive's Egypt, the,' by M. de Leon, reviewed, 477.
Khelat, the Khanate of, our relations with, 220—outlets of, 227—history of British intercourse with, 229—Colonel Jacob's treaty, 230—Major Sandeman's missions, 231—the new treaty, ib.
'Khiva,' Captain Burnaby's 'Ride to,' reviewed, 592.
Khodadad, Khan of Khelat, 230 et seq.
Krüdener, General, his operations about Plevna, 350.
Krupp gun, the, its execution in Abyssinian campaign, 32.
Kurds, the, their movements against the Russians, 289.
Lacroma, an island for sale, 556.
Law (Lord Ellenborough), convicted by the Grand Court, 108.
Lawrence, Lord, abandons policy of "masterly inactivity," 231.
Lawyers in Parliament, their failure accounted for by Lord Abinger, 103.
Life, the Irony of, 411—Thirlwall's distinction between verbal and practical irony, ib.—examples of verbal irony, 412 et seq.—irony in history, 415—in nature, ib.—in our social relations, 416 et seq.—in time contrasted with eternity, 418.
Loftcha, the Russian taking of, 516.
Lom, the, the position on, 517, 773.
London, pedestrian tours round, 331 et seq.
Long, Col. lieutenant of Gordon Pasha, 39.
Louis XI., Victor Hugo's portrait of, 166.
Lovatz, Russians expelled from, 349.
Lytton, Lord, his speech on Indian frontier policy, 220—his settlement of Quetta, 223—executes a treaty with Khelat, 231—confidence in his policy, 234.
M'Gahan, Mr., his account of Russian cruelties in the Khivan campaign, 598.
Mahrattas, the feudal spirit of the, 579.
Manners, Lord J., his speech on Mr. Gladstone's resolutions, 369.
Man's Regret, A, by J. R. S., 756.
Marsh, Captain, his 'Ride through Islam,' reviewed, 592, 608—his view of the occupation of Quetta, 610.
Martin, Theodore: Translations from Heine, 501, 628.
Maximilian of Mexico, his island of Lacroma, 556.
Mayo, Lord, his adoption of a new frontier policy, 221.
Meadows Taylor, Colonel, his 'Story of my Life' reviewed, 575.
Mehemet Ali, his movements on the Lom, 513 et seq.—superseded, 635, 642.
Meissen in Saxony, 62 et seq.
Melikoff, General Loris, his imprudent advance in Armenia, 243.
Merewether, Sir W., his arbitration in Khelat, 230.
Michael, Grand Duke, defeated by Mukhtar Pasha, 639.

MINE IS THINE, Part I., 1—Part II., 133—Part III., 257—Part IV., 432—Part V., 527—Part VI., 648.
MONTENEGRO AND ITS CAPITAL, A RECENT VISIT TO, 553—the ascent, 559—hospital at Njegosh, 560—barrenness of the country, 561—Cettinge, ib.—Prince Nicholas and his family, 562—Montenegrin women, 565—men, 566—wants of the country, 568 et seq.
Montenegro, the war in, 122, 241—rebel successes in, 522—inroads from, 770.
Mukhtar Pasha, his movements in Armenia, 121, 125—reinforced, 129—defeats the Russians at Zedikhan, 239—his generalship criticised, 240—successes in Armenia, 639—his army routed, 647 et seq.—attempts to cover Erzeroum, 651—retreat, 762.
MURAT AS KING OF NAPLES: A WANDERER'S LETTER, No. VII., 200—his letter to Napoleon accepting the crown, 204—his military services, 206—marries Caroline Buonaparte, ib.—opposes the divorce of Josephine, 207—cold reception at Paris, 209—joins the Moscow expedition, ib.—makes proposals to the British, 212—parting with the Emperor, 214—understanding with the Allies, ib.—flight from Naples, 217—attempt on Salerno, 218—trial and execution, ib. et seq.
Napoleon, the irony of his career, 415—his project for the improvement of Egypt, 484.
Nicholas, Prince of Montenegro, 560—his family, 562.
Nicksics, captured by the Montenegrins, 523—capitulation of, 560, 567.
Nicopolis, Russian capture of, 248, 254.
Northbrook, Lord, his opinion of Indian frontier policy, 220—sends a mission to Khelat, 231.
Northcote, Sir Stafford, his speech on Mr. Gladstone's resolutions, 369—his leadership of the Commons, 378.
NORTHERN CIRCUIT AND LORD ABINGER, THE, 91—circuit travelling in the olden times, 105—the Grand Court, 106—congratulations, 107 et seq.—the "junior," 108—Brougham "Solicitor-General," 110—a circuit eclogue, 111—Ingham, Mr., of the Northern Circuit, epitaph on, 112.
Nubar Pasha, 478.
OPIUM-EATER, THE, 717—extenuations of De Quincey's eccentricities, 718—the first draught of opium, 726—his description of its effects, 730 et seq.—pecuniary troubles, 734 et seq.
Osman Pasha, his early successes, 346—his successes, 349—his defence of Plevna, 506—his garrison relieved, 637.
Page, Mr. H. A., his 'Life of De Quincey,' 725.
Panslavism, 616—blamed by Russia for the war, 767.
Park, Sir James Allen, his Toryism, 97.
PARLIAMENTARY RECESS, THE, 744—Premier's Guildhall speech, ib.—Mr. Bright on the state of parties, 752—county franchise, 754—Opposition complaints, 757.
PAULINE: Part VI., BLUNDELLSAYE, 40—Part VII., WALES, 182—Part VIII., LONDON, 303—conclusion, 391.
PEDESTRIANS, TRAMPS AND, 325.
PELASGIC MYKENÆ, 672—Dr. Schliemann's discoveries, ib. et seq.—the city of Priam, 673—discoveries at Mykenæ, 675 et seq.—Hellenic sepulture, ib. et seq.—the tombs at Mykenæ, 677—the Pelasgic theory, 678 et seq.—Scythian analogies, 681—remains at Kertch, 682.
Persia, her attitude in the Eastern Question, 246—the decay of her military power, 608.
Pigott, appointment, the, 378.
Plevna, 243—occupied by Osman Pasha, 349 et seq.—defence of, 507 et seq.—renewed attacks on, 515 et seq.—investment of, 758 et seq.—chances of relief, 769.
POLITICAL RESULTS OF THE WAR, THE, 611—Turkish self-reliance, 613—the condition of Bulgaria, 617—Austria's interest in the question, 621—German sympathy with Russia, 622—gloomy prospects of the issue, 623—satisfactory solution of the Eastern Question postponed by the war, 626.
Porson, anecdotes of, 94.
'Present Day Papers,' by the late Bishop of Argyll, 290.
Press, the Continental, its changed tone towards Russia, 640.
PROPHETS, A SCHOOL OF THE, 283—Thomas Erskine of Linlathen, ib. et seq.—Dr. Campbell of Row, 294.
Publicity a source of embarrassment to English diplomatists, 66 et seq.
Quetta, 223—Captain Marsh's view of the occupation of, 610.
'Quarterly Review,' the, on the Ritualist party, 371.
'Quatre-vingt treize,' by Victor Hugo, 175, 178 et seq.—its difficult plot, 181.
'Ralph Darnell,' by Colonel Meadows Taylor, 589.
Rasgrad, battle of, 365, 513.
Ratib Pasha, his expedition to Abyssinia, 28 et seq.
Rawlinson, Sir Henry, his opinion of our Indian frontier, 223.
RECESS, THE PARLIAMENTARY, 744.
RECENT VISIT TO MONTENEGRO AND ITS CAPITAL, A, 553.
Recouf Pasha, his attack upon the Russians, 353—appointed to the Balkans, 635—behaviour in the Balkans, 643.
Rhineland, the pedestrian in, 344.
'Ride through Islam,' reviewed, 592.
RIDES THROUGH ASIA, 592—Captain Burnaby's adventures, ib. et seq.—Captain Marsh's ride, 608 et seq.
Ridsdale judgment, the, 370—course of High Churchmen with respect to, 371.
Romilly, his early friendship with Lord Abinger, 95, 101.
Rose, Sir George, his epigram on Samuel Warren, 384.

Roumania, her helpless position, 130—her army passes the Danube, 514—alliance with Russia, 516—discontent, 760.
Russia, passage of the Danube, 235 et seq.—her incapacity to blame for her disasters, 247—her want of a definite plan of campaign, 249—barbarities practised by her troops, 252—seasonableness of the Loftcha victory, 515—the Roumanian alliance, ib.—responsibility of Russia for the slaughter, 526—exaggerated views of her military power, 611—her excuses for going to war, 615—arrival of reinforcements in Bulgaria, 636—unsatisfactory prospects, 644 — great victory in Armenia, 649 — difficulties before her, 749—blames the Panslavists for the war, 767.
S., J. R.: SLEEP, 65.—AN UNEQUAL GAME, &c., 756.
Safvet Pasha, American legation snubbed by, 473.
Sandeman, Major, his missions to Khelat, 231.
Scarlett, Mr. Campbell, his life of Lord Abinger reviewed, 91—confused character of the work, 99.
Schipka Pass, the, 508—the struggle for its possession, 510—fruitlessness of the contest, 768—coming difficulties with her allies, 770.
Schliemann, Dr., his archæological discoveries, 672 et seq.
SCHOOL OF THE PROPHETS, A, 283.
Schuyler, Mr. Eugene, offends the Czar's Government, 468—removed to Constantinople, ib.—his partisan conduct, ib. et seq.
Scythians, their relations to the Hellenes, 681.
SESSION AND CURRENT POLITICS, THE, 367—collapse of political opposition, ib.—Mr. Gladstone's resolutions, 368 et seq.—Church politics, 370 et seq.—the Home Rule obstructionists, 373—household suffrage adopted by the Liberals, 377—Sir Stafford Northcote's leadership, 378.
Shakespeare, resemblance of his 'Winter's Tale' to the Helena of Euripides, 431.
Sheriff Courts Jurisdiction Bill, 373.
Shorapoor State, the, Captain Meadows Taylor appointed to the management of, 582.
Sistova, the Russian headquarters, 237—sacked, 238.
SLEEP, by J. R. S., 756.
Sophocles, the irony of, by Bishop Thirlwall, 411—irony in the 'Œdipus,' 413—in the 'Trachiniæ,' 414.
Spalato, its Roman remains, 554.
Statistical information, value of the, afforded by our diplomatists and consuls, 71.
Stigand, Mr. W., his life, work, and opinions of Heinrich Heine, 83.
STORM IN THE EAST, THE: No. II., 113—Russia's delay on the Danube, 117 et seq. — difficulties in Armenia, 119—Russian retreat, 120 — Asiatic conquests the aim of Russia, 126 — the complicity of the Liberal party in Russia's designs, 127: No. III., 235—the crossing of the Danube, ib. et seq. — the Czar's proclamation, 237—Mukhtar Pasha's generalship, 240—the advance on the Balkans, 243—Russia's military incapacity, 246—General Gourko in the Balkans, 255: No. IV., 346—Russia's risk in passing the Danube, 348—Osman Pasha's successes, 349—attack on Plevna, 350 et seq.—the Balkans, 352 et seq.—surprises and mysteries of the war, 354 et seq.—campaign in Armenia, 357—Turkish naval operations, 358: No. V., 506—defence of Plevna, 507—the Schipka Pass, 508 et seq. — Suleiman Pasha's attempt, 510 et seq.—movements on the Lom, 513—the Roumanian alliance, 516—attacks on Plevna, 518 et seq.—campaign in Armenia, 521: No. VI., 634—Russian incompetence, ib.—changes in Turkish commands, 635—preparations for winter, 637—relief of Plevna, ib. et seq.—Turkish successes in Asia, 639—the tone of Europe, 640—the Turkish constitution, 643—strength of Plevna, 646—Mukhtar Pasha's defeat, 647 et seq.—impracticable aims of Russia, 652 et seq.: No. VII., 757—the siege of Plevna, 758 et seq.—Roumanian discontent, 759—Turkish retreat on Erzeroum, 762—battle of Deveboyun, 764—operations in Bulgaria, 765—investment of Erzeroum, 768—the siege of Kars, 770—its capture, 771—the campaign in Bulgaria, 773—attempts at pacification, 774—Mr. Gladstone's policy, ib.—the feeling for peace, 776.
'Story of my Life,' by the late Colonel Meadows Taylor, reviewed, 575.
Stowell, Lord, contrasted with Lord Eldon, 105.
Suleiman Pasha, 252—his march on Adrianople, 253, 255 — transferred to Roumelia, 348—arrives at Adrianople, 352—his operations against Gourko, 508 et seq.—replaces Mehemet Ali, 635.
'Tara,' by Colonel Meadows Taylor, 588 et seq.
'Ten Thousand-a-Year,' by Samuel Warren, 382 et seq.
TENDER RECOLLECTIONS OF IRENE MACGILLICUDDY, THE, 656.
Tenterden, Lord, contrasted with Law, 104.
Tewfik, Prince, heir apparent to the Khedive, 479.
Theoclymenos, his love for Helen, 421 et seq.
Theonoë, the daughter of Teucer, 421 et seq.
Thirlwall, Bishop, his "Irony of Sophocles," 411.
Todleben, General, directs operations against Plevna, 636.
Torpedo explosions, 121, 645.
Tramp, the, his peculiarly English type, 326.
TRAMPS AND PEDESTRIANS, 325 — the tramp, 326—vagabondage as a distraction, 331 — pedestrian tours round

London, 45.—walks in the Highlands, 336 et seq.—Alpine mountaineering a tonic, 339—the pedestrian in Italy, 342—in Germany, 343—in Rhineland, 344.
Trevelyan, Mr. G. O., his crude proposals on army promotion, 491 et seq.
Troy, Dr. Schliemann's discoveries at, 673.
Turkey, inertness of her navy, 123—advantages in Armenia, 129—inaction in Bulgaria, 243—successes in Asia, 245—capacity for self-defence, 525—changes in command, 635—the new constitution, 643—her renovated energies, 612—her altered relations with the Powers, 621.
UNEQUAL GAME, AN, by J. R. S., 756.
University Bills, Oxford and Cambridge, 373.
Vagabondage, its charms, 325—as a distraction, 331.
Vaughan, Dr., Master of the Temple, his tribute to the memory of Samuel Warren, 389.
VICTOR HUGO, 157—his literary work prejudiced by his political opinions, 158—glorification of suicide, 175—the Marquis of Lantenac, 179—the children in La Tourgue, 180—difficult treatment of 'Quatre-vingt-treize,' 181.
WANDERER'S LETTER, A, No. VII.: MURAT AS KING OF NAPLES, 200.
WAR, THE POLITICAL RESULTS OF THE, 611.
WARRANT, THE NEW ARMY, 491.
WARREN, SAMUEL, in memoriam, 381—his literary life, 382 et seq.—characteristics of his genius, 385 et seq.—his high purpose, ib.
WIDOW'S CLOAK, THE, 742.
Wines of Istria, 557.
Yanilar, battle at, 639.
Yezeeds, or devil-worshippers, 605.